The minutes of the January meeting were accepted as amended by Christopher Lotito and seconded by Anita Daniel.

Pequannock School Response....nothing new was reported.

Article Publications...Bob Safarik was absent so we had no report on publication in the new magazine and Leisure Times is waiting for a picture of Lavinia Mandeville.

Museum Updates..Video cameras are in place and working. We tested them out. They need to be repositioned. The cable connection is in process in the council. Ryan Herd is donating his work and the equipment (sound Choice) as a tax deduction.

Monthly Donations List

1. Marty Dob's WWII service history binder.
2. Nicholas Slingerland-Peter Van Riper Collection...donated by the former Judith Van Riper...two sections
  - a. Family History
  - b. First Reformed Church history (Both of these are very extensive and interesting)

Memorial Day Exhibit...We will probably drop the War of 1812 (not enough material) We will redo the picture boards of the Civil War and possibly get a glass covered case to display our more valuable original items. We will also feature Veterans of all wars.

We plan to get a banner made (like the one Open Space has) to be displayed outside Grace Hall so it will be more obvious that there is a display inside...We will also use it for the ho-down and other events too.

Dave Wisneski reported that Lou Ebert is in the process of ordering markers. There are now about 20 from the Revolutionary War. We plan to send to Frelinghuysen's office to expedite . Perhaps we can have the dedication ceremony the Sunday before July 4th.

Jay said that Sharon Wittek has requested a copy of George Parr's book.

Jay Wanczyk said we need UV sleeves for the flourescent lights in the display cases to prevent fading damage.

Chris Lotito brought in a box of books from he Marchisotto estate which we will have to examine.

Jane Costello brought in a Chilton Hospital Auxiliary program and newspaper clipping from an early hospital show and a NY Times newspaper from the day when Lincoln was shot. WE will see about preserving this.

Respectfully submitted      Jane Costello
